

111 學年度中 1 區英語文競賽作文組講評：

We are glad to see students' amazing ideas about how they make good use time. We see creativity and resourcefulness of the young students' ideas. However, there are some aspects that contestants can keep improving. One is the overall organization of all the writy. Some students just miss the focus of the title to provide useful suggestions or advice for people to make good use of time, some students just share personal experiences. Second, most students need to pay more attention to the format of the writing, the choice of correct words and avoid tense mistakes. In conclusion, we applaud students' efforts to make good use of their English competency to express themselves.

111 學年度中 1 區英語文競賽演說組講評：

You were all very brave to get up on stage and present in English today, so congratulations for having the courage to do that. Presentations are different from normal conversation, and it was great to see everyone using eye contact and some gestures to express themselves. Everyone also spoke in loud and clear voices, which is also very important for presenting effectively. In addition, it was impressive to see and hear what your imaginations could create to meet challenge.

Things to improve:

1. Eye contact : Look at your audience attentively all the time.
2. Grammar : Avoid grammatical errors.
3. Conclusion : Try not to end your speech abruptly.
4. Time control
5. In the conclusion part:

We notices that some contestants performed slightly weaker. The conclusion is an important component of the speech, which can summarize your speech content emphasize your viewpoint, and leave a deep impression. Therefor, we suggest that is future speeches, you should pay more attention to the expression of the conclusion.

Well done for trying your best. Next time you can do even brtter.
